

the Joe Hartman School Project

“For I know the plans I have for you; plans to give you hope and a future”
–Jeremiah 29:11

There are not enough schools for all of the children in the Dominican Republic. Hundreds of children are waiting for the opportunity to get into a school. Pastor Elza Phanord and her late husband, Rev. Jean Luc Phanord, had a vision: build a school for the poor in the Dominican Republic to give the children there an excellent education and to teach them Christian values. With much volunteer work, donations, and prayer, the vision became real and the Joe Hartman School school opened along Kilometer 6 in the Dominican Republic.

Now, the children there need your prayers and support. You can help by sponsoring a child as the 2013-2014 school year begins. The children need school supplies as well as uniforms. Donations of any amount are accepted; no donation is too big or too small to help the children of the Joe Hartman School!

Please give what you can, and keep the children and the Joe Hartman School in your prayers.

For more information, visit drmissionteam.org/hartman, contact Mimi Janus at mimi@drmissionteam.org or call (203) 804-2354.

Sponsor a child:

Change a child's life by sponsoring them at the Joe Hartman School – just $160 for the entire 2013-2014 school year!

Name: _____

Telephone : (_____) _____ - _____

Email: _____

Sponsoring a child to attend the Joe Hartman school for $160/year includes books, uniform, physical education uniform, monthly tuition fee, inscription, and rights to pass the grade. Register to support your child today (deadline is June 15, 2013)!

Visit drmissionteam.org/donate to sponsor with online payments, call 203-626-2239 for credit card options, or send a check payable to “DR Mission Team” and note “Hartman School” (along with this form) on the check to DR Mission Team, 13 Fawn Drive, Wallingford, CT 06492.